

Introduction

Coaching/Supervision/Workshop

Dear Sir or Madam,

as a coach I believe in the line that "the whole equals more than the sum of it's parts" which means to me that teams, leaders or employees need to find the right relations and perspectives on how to work together and also should stay true to ones emotions and abilities. Thus, ressources and potential are already there to build up on.

Since spring 2014 I've been entrusted from many enterprises in Nuremberg and surroundings as a professional coach. I am offering team coachings, one on one coachings, team development workshops, resilience and self-care workshops such as conflict-moderations.

My mindset and working methods originate from systemic consulting and humanistic psychology (such as gestalt therapy and theme orientated interaction). On top of my business I am currently studying for a masters degree in work and organizational psychology to round up my skill-set.

If you want to know more about my references and professional fees feel free to call or write me and state your name and contact data. For a first impression and better understanding of my work read the services attached to this introduction on my website.

I am looking forward hearing from you

With best regards

Jens Walter
